

My Vision for My Life

Loving myself I feel vibrant, radiant, playful, passionate, lively, free, happy, and grounded.

In my interactions with those I love I experience joy, happiness, acceptance, value, trust, love and support.

In my work life I am trusted, appreciated, creative, confident, thankful, happy, brave, interested, safe and fulfilled.

My relationship to money feels free, awesome, rewarding and satisfying.

In balancing the time I spend with the ones I love and my work I experience satisfaction and joy.

In my home I feel peace, serenity, love, inspired, free, safe, warm, thankful and happiness.

Living from my heart feels free, centered, peaceful and relaxing.

Visual

I see myself as a wise women in the areas of inspiring others about living a creative and full life. I see myself inspiring people around the world on how to live a happy life through speeches, music, writings and other forms of art. I see myself healthy and fit. I see myself feeling free to be me and being loved by my husband. I see myself freely loving him. I see myself traveling to beautiful places with my loved ones.

I see myself having a wonderful relationship with my Mom, sons and their significant other and grandchildren. I see myself uplifting my extended family. I see myself experiencing healthy relationships with all my friends and family.

Auditory

I want to be heard by others on the topics about the youth, mental health and healthy relationships. I want to be heard with my voice through song, writings and my photography.

Kinesthetic

I feel content, joy, grounded, satisfied and pleased with life. I feel that I am making a positive difference in peoples lives. I feel loved by many.

I am successful in life. I am love. I am lovable. I give love.

Completed on 10/27/17 by Sherry Denise Crocker Burden